

For our small service team in Balzers (Liechtenstein), we are looking for a

Service Technician (m/f) 80–100 %

In this diversified position, you are responsible for planning revision work and service calls as well as complex machine conversions and their implementation; demanding installation projects extending to the commissioning of entire high-tech coating systems; independent troubleshooting, diagnosis and repair as well as initiation of the necessary corrective measures; recommending, developing and executing action plans to optimize the availability and performance of our machines; technical support and advice for our customers including customer training. Your operational area is Switzerland/Liechtenstein.

What we expect of you:

- Completed technical apprenticeship as electrician, automation technician or electronics technician
- Knowledge of vacuum and thin film technology would be an advantage
- A high degree of independence, initiative and the ability to work in a team
- Problem-solving skills and the ability to understand and learn quickly
- Good knowledge of English
- Willingness to travel mostly in Switzerland

What we have on offer:

- An interesting field of activity in a small and lively company with a dynamic and innovative team
- Progressive conditions of employment
- Comprehensive training in our in-house training center
- A varied and extremely demanding field of activity in an international, fast-growing company
- Committed, friendly and motivated colleagues from all over the world
- Large amount of freedom to work your professional activities

Are you interested in requesting an interview with us?

Then we look forward to receiving your complete application documents, which we request you send by email to: bewerbung@evatec.li